Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License

By using the Creative Commons License, you accept and agree to the terms and conditions of the License, which are available at http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/legalcode.

The creators of this work have granted the Creative Commons license to their work, which means that you can use the work according to the terms of the license. The license allows for the non-commercial use of the work, provided that you give attribution to the creator(s) of the work.

This license is distributed under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License, which is available at http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/.

To view, download, remix, and distribute this work, you must give attribution to the creator(s) of the work. For more information, visit http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/.

4. Definitions of Terms and Conditions

4.1 "Attribution". You must provide the attribution required by Section 3 of this license, including a direct link to the Creative Commons License. You may provide additional notice and information as required by Section 4 of this license, including the statement "All other rights reserved.

4.2 "Commercial Use". The right to use this work commercially is defined as the right to receive compensation for the use of the work, either directly or indirectly.

4.3 "License". This license is the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License, available at http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/.

4.4 "Work". The "Work" means the original creative work, as well as any derivatives, adaptations, and translations of the original work.

4.5 "You". You refers to the person or entity using the Work.